Jacques-Henri COSTE, Vincent DUSSOL
The Fictions of American Capitalism: An Introduction

PART I Theoretical Overviews
Robert BOYER
From Economics as Fiction to Fiction-Led Capitalism
Jens BECKERT
Capitalism: Anticipating the Future Present
Stephen SHAPIRO
The Cultural Fix: Capital, Genre, and the Times of American Studies

PART II Non-Literary Fictions of American Capitalism
Marie-Christine PAUWELS
‘Tell Me a Story’: How American Capitalism Reinvents Itself through Storytelling
Pierre ARNAUD
The Boundless Economy: A Performative Fiction?
Jacques-Henri COSTE
American Entrepreneurship as Action Translated into Heuristic Discourse

PART III Literary Representations of Capitalism
Julia P. McLÉOD
The Woman Proprietor in Elizabeth Stuart Phelps’s The Silent Partner: Social Reform Novel as Paradigm of John Stuart Mill’s Liberal Political Economy
Guillaume TANGUY
William Dean Howells and the Economic Novel: Heteronomy and Autonomy
Evelyne PAYEN-VARIÉRAS
The Theory of Monopoly and the Crafting of the Modern Epic: Frank Norris’s The Octopus as Populist Drama?
Jason DOUGLAS
Literary Naturalism and Economic Calculability: on Dreiser’s The Financier
William DOW
Living on Paper: Disarticulating a Racialized Capitalism in Works by Richard Wright and Ann Petry
Vincent DUSSOL
Ayn Rand’s Atlas Shrugged: “Laissez-Faire” Fiction?
Jean-Louis BRUNEL
“Building the clutter, widening the vacancy”: the Baroque & Capitalism in William Gaddis’s JR
Sina VATANPOUR
Money Narratives in Postmodern Novels by Paul Auster and Martin Amis
Jacques-Henri COSTE
Revisiting Business History through Fiction: The Glove-Making Business in Philip Roth’s American Pastoral
Bénédicte CHORIER-FRYD : Thomas Pynchon’s Dumps: Subversive Developments

Coda
Peter KNIGHT
Economic Humanities: Literature, Culture and Capitalism

Index